My comment is more about the boundary of Cheltenham than of its wards. I am concerned about the treatment of the new Estate built by REDROW off Farm Lane Leckhampton. This estate is nominally in "Shurdington", and so part of Tewkesbury Borough Council. This is absurd. The new estate is immediately adjacent to the "Brizen Lane" estate also off Farm Lane, and shares the same access to shops doctors, schools etc. Both estates have far more direct connections to Leckhampton than they do to Shurdington, and also are much closer to the centre of Cheltenham than to Tewkesbury. So I think that the new REDROW estate should be transferred out of TBC into CBC where it would naturally fit in to the current Leckhampton with Warden Hill Parish, as part of its Leckhampton Ward. This observation may not be relevant to the current re-warding of Cheltenham, but it does need to be urgently addressed by whomever is responsible.
