I live in the village of The Lee, which is a rural area. The interests of the village would be would best served by being grouped with other rural areas rather than being overshadowed by a large town. The Lee is currently grouped with other hilltop villages & parts of Chesham. The neighbouring villages of Ballinger & South Heath are similar to The Lee & currently in the same parliamentary constituency, but are likely to be different after proposed changes. I very much hope that rural villages will not be included in ward together with large urban areas. The issues are very different.
