RE Wildridings and Central. 1) Wildridings is a 'village' of Bracknell in its own right. As far as I can see, the boundary is naturally formed by the Downshire Way. Surely Central Bracknell (which I would not class as an 'estate') would be better served by having its own boundary. 2) Concerned to see that the forecast estimate of residents is to increase by 25%+ ? 3) Wildridings is naturally allied to Easthampstead (i.e. Easthampstead and Wildridings community centre ). If a change of boundaries is required, surely Easthampstead and Wildridings should be joined together! 4) I would say that Bracknell Central is probably populated by temporary residents and an ever-changing scenario, therefore should be treated differently from Wildridings which very much consists of "settled" and long term residents.
