I think this is a great idea, in the modern world with communication being has it is wards do not need 2 councillors because of email, mobile phones and apps for meetings on line it is really not needed. I have two councillors in my ward which are a husband and wife team and I am 100% sure one councillor is all that is needed. Also COVID has proven that a good majority of people use social media has well has other methods to get in touch with relevant authorities
