I am not all happy about the proposed changes. Due to having Covid earlier this year I was not able to comment at that time but did do previously. I take the view that being a predominately rural area the Electorate in those wards risk not have the best representation by their Councillors because of the wider areas proposed and less Councillors. This is I believe a serious Human Rights' issue that has not been taken properly into account. The Electorate are entitled to be properly represented. The Election Act 2006 entwines the Representation of the Peoples Act 1983 updated in 2000. I think the people should be allowed to make their own decisions. Not overriding Government bodies who appear to want to diminish proper representation. Saving money should be by sacrificing and reducing people's Human Rights. The Wards as they were were well looked after by their Councillors. Why try to change something that is not broken. More waste of money by bureaucrats.
