I consider the present wards should stay the same but I'm not sure if there's need to be as many as three local councillors for each ward mainly due to the fact I've found there's usually ever one of them who bothers to reply to any email I send all three of them on any local issue in the St Michaels ward. In fact I manage to get the city council to maintain the local environment better than the three elected Green councillors seem to! This is by my emailing the city council and reporting any local environmental issues on a regular basis. Perhaps if just one or two local councillors were kept for each ward would be enough in my view and especially when all three of mine are full time parents to their young children so must find it difficult to find the time to be a good local councillor.
