Comment text:

As a resident of Hayley Green for over thirty years I do feel quite strongly that Hayley Green is logistically and socially more naturally aligned to Winkfield than Warfield Hayley Green is a small self-contained village only separated from Winkfield Row by an unnatural and invisible gap. Conversely, there are natural gaps (eg roads/woods) between Hayley Green and other Warfield villages. Also, I do recall that there was a plan a few years ago (8-10?) where new parish boundaries were proposed integrating Hayley Green with Winkfield Row. This seems the most logical outcome for Hayley Green and its residents. Is there any reason for a proposed change to that plan?
