I live in Wrockwardine Wood with my husband and two small children. I do not drive so I depend on the buses so that I can travel to work and get my son to nursery. My son goes to Oakengates Nursery as this is the closest to me and is also very convenient as I work in the centre of Oakengates. Where I live in Cockshutt Road has more ties to Oakengates than anywhere else. We may have the name of Wrockwardine Wood but we do not see this as our community. We do not go into Trench or Wrockwardine Wood by bus and we do not use their shops. One of the main reasons for this is the very fast road (Wrockwardine Wood Way) which separates us. I would be scared to cross this road with my children as there are no crossing points unless I walk far to find a footbridge. I have always thought of myself and my home as being part of Oakengates. Please do not separate Wrockwardine Wood from Oakengates, I want my boys to feel that this is their home when they grow up too.
