Having taken all the trouble to split Leegomery into Apley Castle and Leegomery, why now combine them? Apley Castle better represents the needs of the people in the area. Karen Blundell is a much more active representative who takes account of our views. A large number of houses have been built and are still to be built in the Apley Castle area, making it even more important that we retain our identity as a separate ward. We have all changed our postal addresses from Leegomery to Apley after a long wait. With the growing population of Telford surely this proposed combination is a backward step.
