Comment text:

I am very concerned about changing the boundaries for Councillors, we are a very rural area, and our current councillor is an active member of our community and attends most community meetings, conducts case work for individuals and supports new ventures, he is accessible and responsive. If this role now covers several rural villages as it detailed, I believe they will spend most of their time travelling rather than being part of the community, He will not be able to attend regular Parish Council meetings never mind other community events that constituents appreciate greatly. This will impact the view of constituents on the Conservative Party which is already at a low. I ask that you review the boundaries and consideration is made to the distance travelled and number of councils within areas rather than the amount of the electorate.
