Wood End Road, Blackwood Avenue, and the small streets thereby should remain as Wednesfield. They are traditionally Wednesfield and you should consider the border for Fallings park as starting with the shops by the red lion pub and long knowle lane. This would also ensure that the identity of the schools would remain as wednesfield and the neighbouring businesses. Fallings park is not as appealing as the name Wednesfield and I think that businesses and schools would lose their Wednesfield identity which has a lot of history. The house values may be affected. I own a property on blackwood Avenue and I won't want to use Fallings park as my address as I live in Wednesfield. Also why are you doing this? It's a costly exercise and instead of dividing up areas you should be focussing on improving them.
