Hello I live in the parish of Lenham and have always been impressed by my 2 borough councillors. The current boundary for my ward works and is logical, but to slice Lenham into 2 wards and expand all the way to beyond Hollingbourne is simply not logical and actually stupid. Also, the new boundary clearly shows Lenham Heath in the Headcorn Ward at a time when the whole of Lenham is against the proposed Lenham Heathlands project. I would speculate that Headcorn residences wouldn't even know or care where the Heathlands projects is, let alone protest at 5000 homes in a remote part of the borough. Infrastructure - Lenham is already suffering from too many houses being built. The primary and secondary schools are constantly oversubscribed, to a point where a family in Hollingbourne that wanted to go to the Lenham school can't and is forced to a Maidstone school! The GP doctor services can no longer cope. Allowing yet another village to have access to these services will cause yet more pressure and cause yet more appointment delays. Please do try to get an appointment..... Imagine this - how can a person living over 5miles away in Hollingbourne feel part of Lenham, and visa versa. How can a person living over 8miles away in Sandway feel part of Headcorn, and visa versa. This proposal is simply illogical and unthoughtful. Please leave our ward alone, we have 2 great councillors, it works.....
