Comment text:

Current first past the post system where winner takes all is undemocratic. Multi member wards make the system even more undemocratic. Any future ward arrangements should contain single member wards only. This will make the system more democratic by allowing councillors with a broader and more representative views to be elected as opposed to the current system which is rigged in favour of wealthy white men with conservative views. It will also increase the connection between councillors and the electorate as councillors will represent a smaller area.
