I have been a longstanding resident of Astley Bridge at The Gardens, Eagley Bank and heavily involved with a local community group, Team Eagley Bank. Eagley Bank is very much part of Astley Bridge and despite historical connections, has no current links with Eagley Mill. Residents from this area take an active part in events held by the Friends of Astley Bridge group on Andrew Lane Park and to split this community up in the manner that is being proposed would be wrong. Andrew Lane park is a focal point for events held within Astley Bridge and is where the wider community gather for events throughout the year. Local Cllr's and community groups have worked hard to bring the local area together and I would be opposed to any efforts to change this. As someone that has lived in the area, I know that these views will be widespread and widely opposed but I am submitting my own objection in the hope that this viewpoint is listened to.
