I was disappointed to learn of the Boundary Commission proposals in regard to Astley Bridge which would split up the area and divide our community. Astley Bridge is a distinct geographic area, with a long history and locally people have worked hard to create a real sense of local community. Local community groups such as the Friends of Astley Bridge and our local Cllr's regularly bring residents together, with a range of events being held at Andrew Lane Park throughout the year. I was concerned to learn that the park, which is a focal point for residents in the area was going to be removed from the ward, alongside the residents of Eagley Bank which frequently use the park and enjoy taking part in the events that are held there. Removing these residents from the ward will weaken the community and split up an area that many have worked so hard to bring together. These proposals should be reconsidered as Astley Bridge works well as an area and does not need to change.
