The boundary for Urmston and Stretford wards is proposed to move from the actual town boundary to the m60, my house ([REDACTED]) would now come under the Stretford ward. I live in Urmston, the pub 150 metres away is called the Urmston pub, the pharmacy at the end of the road is called the Urmston pharmacy, I do my shopping and socialise in Urmston town center. I do not feel that it would be correct to be represented by councillors from a town that I very rarely visit other than driving through it. What is the basis for making this change?
