The proposal is negative as this intends to remove the defined lines between 'countryside' and 'urban' areas. The proposal simply sets out to pave the way for ongoing development thereby extending Worcester further into previously greenfield areas. The best interests of residents are certainly not top priority in this specific case, however increasing urban sprawl is. I'm already looking out to the rear of my house watching another 100 homes go up, this in addition to the 100 plus on the main road. When will it stop? It won't...not unless somebody with some reasonable understanding says so. Here's to the infrastructure failing.....
