I would support the Green Party's suggestion to keep the Hanover & Elm Grove boundary the same. The Conservatives and Labour suggestions remove some of the cultural symbolism of the ward or adjoins it to areas that feel less holistic than their current areas. The wards, while symbolic, are important to the idea of area. Redrawing of wards can protect any ghettoisation or gentrification in a cultural sense, but the Con and Lab suggestions are not wholesale changes that refines these areas, they are slight changes that chip away at identity rather than create them anew. So I would support the ward boundaries staying as is.
