Enlarging the East Brighton ward with the inclusion of Brighton College up to the Craven Vale estate is a bad idea. The problems experienced by the current East Brighton ward is already too much work required by existing Ward Councillor, adding another estate with its associated problems would dilute the time spent by the Ciuncillors. Also, placing a well known, nationally award winning private school within a financially deprived ward doesn't make sense as this could affect grant funding for community groups as this may take the Ward out of the funding bands. Geographically, Craven Vale down to Brighton College is on the other side of one of the largest hill in Brighton and again has residents have differing priorities which would vastly increase the workload of existing to the detriment of existing East Brighton ward residents.
