Comment text:

I fail to see the logic of absorbing an half of area like Patcham, with its own identity and history, into a ward which actually makes it vanish. The Ladies Mile Estate has been a massive part of Patcham since the 1930s... both socially and geographically....and as far as I can see we residents are no longer to be part of Patcham. This shows no respect for the history, and I fail to see what the benefits are.
