Objection to Boundlary changes
Patcham Ward, Brighton & Hove City Council

I wish to object to the Boundary Commission proposed changes to the Patcham Ward of Brighton & Hove City Council

Patcham predates the Domesday book and is referred as a Downland village, and involved round sheep farming.

The ward is the hub of a busy village community with activities focused on the village, to split it down the middle between and incorporate it into Hollingbury or Westdene will take away the village feel and ethos and lose its village vitality, it should therefore not be tampered with and should be left as a community.
