I am shocked to hear that there is a proposal to split the lovely patcham village. I bought my house in PATCHAM as I wanted to be in a lovely green rural setting. I strongly disagree that the road I live on which is near Mackie park patcham would be classed as 'Carden and Hollingbury'. I feel this would have a detrimental effect on the patcham community and also impact of the valuation of my property. If I wanted to live in Hollingbury would have bought property there but I chose to live in a small community called Patcham. I cannot believe 'tis is even being considered. My house is nowhere near carden avenue so why would I want to be in a ward which incorporated this name. Patcham as it stands now deserves the status of Patcham village and not be split into two. I am very upset and angry that this proposal could be a possibility. We have our own community centre and library plus schools etc all under the umbrella of Patcham. This must not go ahead.
