I object to the proposal to split Patcham in half. This is a prosperous community that stretches across the mackie, ladies mile and village estates. People purposely move to Patcham because of this strong community feeling and welcoming g family environment and this would cause a sense of division for no apparent reason. Even if this is just about political voting wards rather than a full address change I still do not see the benefit, there is already a good split across the current wards with good representation across the parties.
