The Deene and Deenethorpe Parish council in it's present form is a waste of resources. The two villages should be absorbed into neighbouring parishes to streamline the benefgits for the whole area. In my opinion Deenethorpe and Benefield should combine and Deene should combine with Bulwick. This would facilitate the inclusion of Tresham if it ever comes to fruition. Deenethorpe in particular is very poorly served in comparison with other villages. It would fare much better as part of a larger Parish. There would also be a saving on councillor numbers with two, or even one, being the maximum for Deenethorpe.
