The current proposal to combine Dormansland with Felbridge looks like someone reading a map but with little local knowledge. Felbridge is entirely different in character to Dormansland, they have little connection in transport, education, commuting or social amenities. Dormansland is closely connected to Lingfield, stations are adjacent, schools are common, public amenities serve the two communities and both are rural in character.

Felbridge is more urban and more connected to Gatwick, Crawley, Burstow and Horne.

A better outcome would be to combine Outwood with Bletchingley & Nutfield, combine Burstow and Horne with Felbridge, and combine Dormansland & Felbridge with Lingfield and Crowhurst.

That would provide synergies as well as produce more similar and cohesive units.
