Related subject: Clayton

I should think a majority of people in Clayton have no idea why Clayton and Fairweather Green are joined as a ward. commuters to Bradford or Halifax from Clayton have no need to pass through Fairweather Green, and some might even have difficulty knowing just where it is. A lot better policy would be to join Clayton with either Queensbury or Thornton .As 'former' villages on the outskirts of Bradford these three have similar problems, combining rural and urban areas. Fairweather Green is mostly urban, with its own problems and identity
