To whom it may concern. The village/hamlet of Jacobs Well, Guildford. is a quite small settlement on the outskirts of Guildford Town Centre that provides a peaceful place with historic and listed homes that local residents live in. Over the last 6 decades at least Worplesdon Parish Council has provided us with excellent services to make sure we live in a rural setting and are supported by the type of residents who wish to live in type of environment.

The people who live here are here , is because they like it here. Any shifting of future boundaries to an urban containment will be seen as changing JW village into the vast expansion of the North Guildford Housing Estates of the future. The JW identity will be lost along with the rural type of maintenance. The political and democracy of representing JW will be forced against the will of the more mature residents, that is for sure. Political activists have already tried to muscle in on this area! Therefore I strongly object to the proposals to alter the existing boundary of JW away from WPC.

Thankyou, [REDACTED]. JW resident for the last 40 years.
