Comment text:

I am writing to express my objection to the proposed Boundary Commission Review and their ill conceived idea of carving up Thames Ditton and Weston Green. With far more important things to concern themselves, this is a pointless exercise which is actually contrary to Surrey County Council's own recommendations - which did not include any major change for our local area.

Your role is to consider Electoral equality, Community identity and interests and effective and convenient local government.

None of these actually improves the currant situation. Electoral equality would take a downward turn, our strong sense of community would actually suffer and would result in two County councillors serving the community with associated costs and administration. So much for lean effective representation. The current division boundary is clear, easily identifiable, familiar to residents and, most importantly, it works. You might not know that well known phrase - If it isn't broke don't fix it – so I suggest you save yourself time, effort and money and address those areas which do require you attention.

Regards
