Having reviewed the proposals, I disagree with the recommendation to split Oxshott into Cobham and Esher and Claygate. The implications on the residents and community would be vast - one example of which could be poorly defined and unclear representation within SCC. Oxshott is a community led village, the large majority of residents put time, money and effort into maintaining the standards and reputation of life within the village and it would be unacceptable to impact this on this grounds of the current proposal.
