Hi,

I have no interest in boundary changes within Surrey. I would however like to propose that East Molesey becomes part of Greater London and joins the London Borough of Richmond or Kingston. I have recently moved a few hundred yards out of Richmond and find that the services are incomparable. I felt as a London Borough, that the Council was an integral part of my life offering services and communication beyond compare.

Elmbridge feels remote from my everyday life and 'amateurish' in its delivery. I have none of the advantages of living in London. My station is in zone 6 as it was before and I think it's very unfair that I had to give up my over 60's Oyster Card even though my journey to work is the same type and length as my previous one from Teddington.

I also had to pay an extra £30 for a black cab to take me a hundred yards over Hampton Court Bridge because he was leaving London, so my journey from Heathrow cost £70 rather than £40.

Please encourage Elmbridge to break away from Surrey and join London.

Thanks, in no hope at all,
