Related subject: Oxshott

I fundamentally reject the recommendations of LGBCE for the way in which it proposes to treat Oxshott. As a community, Oxshott has a population of about 5,000+ people. It is a settlement that is largely defined by surrounding Green Belt with its own High Street, its own medical centre, its own schools, and its own station. The community sense of belonging is strong with an active community drawing together for national celebrations, annual Christmas celebrations and more. The coffee shop is a core hub of the community and it's sense of belonging. There can be no justification for dividing the community particularly by arbitrarily drawing a line down a main road. And there can be no justification for the obliteration of the name of Oxshott in the LGBCE recommendations. Oxshott is one of the most desirable and sought after villages to live in in the home counties and country. To carve this beautiful village in half would be devastating on so many levels.
