Related subject: Proposed Boundary Divisions

I was grateful to be able to comment on the proposed boundary divisions in Elmbridge. I understand why boundaries need to be reviewed but I do not agree with the proposal of Long Ditton and Hinchley Wood. As a resident of Thames Ditton, my family is more engaged with Long Ditton - its schools, local nature reserve and community. The Dittons is an area entwined by history - I do not understand why the ward boundary for this needs to be changed! From events on the village green that unite both communities, to the community and village halls that run a wide variety of activities for residents of The Dittons, not to mention the pockets of green spaces that are enjoyed by all, including Stokes Field which we're all united on trying to save. (But that's another consultation in the hands of Surrey councillors). Pubs, schools, churches..... We have so much that brings us together and have done for decades. I do not not welcome the new boundary suggestion, not to mention the likely costs associated with implementing proposed changes. It is all in the name: The Dittons.
