These proposals do not recognise Oxshott as a community (splitting it in two & removing the name completely) and puts a significant proportion of it in with areas that it has limited connection with (eg Claygate). The proposed boundary runs along the village High Street so would put the village store / Post Office / Pharmacy in a different area to the othe shops & services often visited at the same time. A better split would be based on the A3. Oxshott is growing and has far more links (transport & social) with Cobham while Burwood Park is more linked with Walton or Hersham.
