We are writing to object to the changes to Oxshott Village proposed by the Boundary Commission. We have been residents in Oxshott for 35 years and have always delighted in the strong sense of community in the village. It is with deep concern that the essential spirit may well be lost, let alone the complications which will arise when the village is quite literally halved in two by the arbitrary drawing of a boundary line down the main road (A244).
Please give more serious thought to how much the unclear advantages of the proposal can outweigh the disadvantages which I allude to above.

Oxshott Residents,
