Related subject: Springbank

When I moved to a new development off Springbank Road in 2004 I noticed when driving around the area that most roads bear the names of people and were told that they contributed to the development of the area and have no connection to Tewkesbury, which is not located next door but miles away from the area in which Springbank is located. So why is parts of Cheltenham now being allocated to Tewkesbury for political voting? I am against the transfer
