I am currently in the Penn ward as I live in Knotty Green. I don't think that this represents much sense as most issues that I have are related to the town of Beaconsfield. This is where I shop, my kids go to school, I use the station from etc. Being in a different constituency and ward means that I can't get adequate representation on any of the issues that affect my family locally. For example, I have previously contacted councillors about sustainable transport in town and my school - because it is not in their ward they are not interested.
