

Fareham Borough Council

I appreciate that boundaries must be set to enable each ward to have roughly the same number of inhabitants. However, I have never been happy with my part of Fareham being lumped with Park Gate, which is somewhat a separate community, north of the Locks Heath Centre. Now that there has been more building at Park Gate, I should like to see Priory Park, which is south of the Centre, some distance from Park Gate and a Locks Heath address, represented by a Locks Heath Councillor.
