The boundaries in the Basildon Borough Council are too heavily weighed for the seats North of the A127, it all needs ripping up and starting again, the likes of St Martins and vange wards should have 3 cllrs each, because they have most of the casework and in fact Langdon hills should have 3 as well. Go back to how it was laid out pre 2002 and then all the wards had 3 cllrs each and makes it fair and then takes the pressure off the cllrs who are in only 2 seat wards. But will my views make a difference, because we know the Tories will try and gerrymandering the wards to keep them selves in power
