I live in the ward of Hesters Way and think that the part of Hesters Way that is on the east of Princess Elizabeth Way should join St Marks ward. People there feel park of St Marks and Princess Elizabeth Way is a very busy road that cuts that part of Hesters Way off from the other side. People living on my side of Princess Elizabeth Way feel much more a part of Springbank. It is a community on this side. There is a new development, Golden Valley, being built on what was Greenbelt that is in both Hesters Way and Springbank wards. Hesters Way will get all the employment buildings (for 7000 workers) and Springbank is to get all the housing (up to 3000). It will take many years for this to be built and when finished will probably make a ward in itself but in the meantime it would make sense to move a large part of the Springbank Ward that is currently fields and earmarked for housing, into the Hesters Way ward to spread the new residents between the two, probably more to Hesters Way if the part on the St Marks side goes to St Marks.
