Barkham would seem to underrepresented as I don't understand how Barkham is proposed 1 councillor per 3971 forecast electorate when Finchampstead South is 1 per 2745, Arborfield 1 per 2118, Swallowfield 1 per 2670, Finchampstead North 1 per 2093 and Evendons 1 per 2438. Based on this level of representation Barkham should have 2 councillors, and also has this taken in to account the recent planning applications from Developers for large scale developments that are not part of the local plan? I would like to see an arrangement that truly reflects the electorate per councillor. Barkham shares services with Finchampstead South, North, Evendons and Arborfield. My children go to school at Evendons Primary (nearest school), Beavers in Arborfield and Guides in Finchampstead South!
