Comment text:

I am a young Buckinghamshire Councillor with a full-time job. If there were not the other two councillors in my ward, I would not have the time to do this. Having the current number allows for a greater diversity of voices to be heard. You could have single, much smaller constituencies and the same number of councillors. That might work nicely as it means residents always know who to contact and there is clear accountability. But please, keep a decently high number of councillors, so that younger councillors in full-time jobs can contribute.
