Comment text:

We spoke to local residents at our community shop on Walton Vale to explain the proposals and hear their feedback. On the whole, most thought 1 councillor per ward was a good idea as "it might mean they do more" and will be better than the current system. However, some thought it was a sign of more cuts and that it will mean less will get done in their ward. Most didn't understand why it was changing, and that it should stay as it is, but also acknowledged that it won't make much difference to them. However, those living in Warbreck Ward which will split into Walton Hall and Walton Vale, felt they should stay together as the community is being split and would rather see a 2 cllr ward.
