As we are trying to reduce the number of Bucks councillors then presumably the wards need to be generally bigger, but I believe there is a constituents to councillor ratio. So how does that work in my ward example of Amersham & Chesham Bois? I believe the current ward boundary covers the area well but it could include Amersham old town and along Lomdon rd towards Willow Wood to fully encapsulate what locals would consider Amersham proper. It should not go bigger than that as that becomes farmland and local villages for which the councillor would likely not represent their views well enough.
