I understand that it proposed to merge Hallow ward with Broadheath. I object to this proposal. The villages of Hallow, Grimley, Sinton Green and Monkwood are well served by our current district councillors. We know them and they know us. Over 2500 new homes are being built in Broadheath. Added to the existing housing stock would make Broadheath a plausible ward in its own right. The adage Big is Beautiful or Economy of Scale may work when you're producing cars or TV's, but when you're dealing with people it leaves a lot to be desired. I can foresee faceless bureaucrats in an office miles away making decisions which affect villages they've probably never seen. I believe in the old saying " If it ain't broke, don't fix it ".
