I have uploaded a file to explain. In summary, Sale Moor should include part of the areas of Brooklands and Priory which form a catchment area for the centre of the village. Brooklands should include some of the Timperley area which are accessed from the Brooklands side i.e. Framingham Road as to me, this is Sale not Timperley. Areas north of Baguley Brook have been added to St Mary's from Broadheath, as people cannot easily access one side from the other, so are to my mind distinct communities. Ashton Upon Mersey should include up to the barrier that is the M60, as no-one would refer to this area as Stretford. There is an area of Bucklow St Martins which I have split between Ashton and Urmston as these areas both look like they should be part of the respective wards. A56 is generally an effective barrier between communities due to the lack of safe, accessible and convenient crossing points, so it makes sense for this to remain as a ward boundary, and the architecture and urban design is distinct from one side to the next. I don't know much about the communities in North Trafford and all I know about South Trafford is people in Hale Barns and Bowdon will want to stay in Hale Barns and Bowdon. In general, I feel the priority should be on communities and not numbers of residents.
