The distribution of councillors does not appear to be equitable. University & Scotforth Rural ward has 3 councillors with an electorate of 3185 (forecast: 3369), whereas wards with a larger electorate only have 2: Marsh (current = 4195, forecast = 4504), Heysham central ( current and forecast = 3397), Heysham North (current = 3304, forecast = 3404), Poulton (current = 3630, forecast = 3685), Torrisholme (current = 3649, forecast = 3719). The ward councillors for Marsh have almost 2,098 constituents to represent each, whereas the ward councillors for University & Scotforth Rural have just 1062 constituents to represent each. It feels to me that constituents of Marsh, Heysham Central, Heysham North, Poulton and Torrisholme are being underpresented in comparison to University & Scotforth Rural ward.
