First of all I think the decision to keep the number of councillors at 60 is ridiculous in this current situation with a cabinet of 10 and a few committee chairs most councillors only get to each other at full council. This does not make good representation. As far as the boundaries are concerned it is clear that rural areas are over represented in the number of councillors and that urban Lancaster is under represented, with University and Scotforth Rural being the exception although I would contend that that ward is more rural than part of urban Lancaster. Bulk ward is seriously under represented compared to other wards and should either be split or given an extra representative. If split I would suggest the canal be the dividing line and recreate the old St Annes ward..
