Having been a resident of Damigos Road [REDACTED] before moving to Sun Marsh Way on the new Dalefield estate [REDACTED], we as a family have always believed that we are part of the Chalk area, obviously knowing that we were classed as Riverside, but feeling a strong connection to the area. My in laws live in Chalk and my husband has lived in Chalk previous to us getting married his whole life. We walk our dogs in Chalk. Our family, have always been patients of the doctors surgery, we use the private dentist in the village, we have used the village hall for our children's activities and parties and we attend Chalk Church throughout the year. From our kitchen window we can see the houses and back gardens of Copperfield Close, we are a stones throw from them. The fact that Dering Way creates a very clear line between Chalk and Denton and we are on the side of Chalk feels that it's a very obvious and clear distinction between the two areas. The only time I venture over to Denton is to vote at the Riverside Centre - other wise I have no reason to go there.

[REDACTED] our 18 year old son [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] attended the college on Dering Way for a year as he failed his English GCSE and needed to improve his grade before returning to sixth form. Again, this is us using the facilities in Chalk as our home. The college being kept as part of Chalk, but us as residents directly behind it not being included makes no sense. I would really worry that becoming part of Denton would have a massive impact on the house prices in our area. We worked, and still do work really hard to afford our home and for those measure to be taken without our consideration seems very unfair. We would very strongly like you to consider us to be made part of Chalk and for us as residents of the area to be kept more informed of these decisions as we only heard about this by chance.
