Comment text:

The Lee Parish Council does not have a view on the number of councillors per se, but we do find the current arrangement where we are represented on Buckinghamshire Council by multiple councillors of different political persuasions very unsatisfactory. It is not at all clear which of them has responsibility for which area, as a result of which we find we escalate issues to three people (a reduction from the six people in the first year of the unitary authority) without any clear understanding of which, if any, will pick up the issue. We would very much like to revert to the prior arrangement where we had clearly designated representatives.
