I personally feel after living, working and being educated in the city for the last 33 years, and wanting to see the city centre really develop, Arboretum ward should be converted into a Derby city ward. Hence the city centre area should be purely for the city centre (ideally inner ring road area), also around friar gate to ashbourne road, five lamps area and maybe little chester. This will focus on the city centre development, and help the city thrive with the new developments e.g: new arena, new accommodation, more derby uni buildings. The Arboretum area can be linked with abbey, normanton and alvasaton to let it continue and thrive. Hope helps.
